Speakers
Prof Tony Holland - Tony Holland was awarded the Health Foundation Chair in Learning (Intellectual) Disability in 2002, establishing the Cambridge Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities Research Group (www.CIDDRG.org.uk). His clinical work is as a consultant psychiatrist with the specialist learning disabilities services for Cambridgeshire, working in the multidisciplinary Intensive Assessment and Support Service (IASS) in the community. His specific research interests include the eating, behavioural and mental health problems associated with having Prader Willi Syndrome; the relationship between Down’s syndrome and Alzheimer’s disease, and also clinical/legal issues relevant to the needs of people with intellectual disabilities. He was a special advisor to a Parliamentary Scrutiny Committee when the Mental Capacity Act was before Parliament.

Saki Hartas - Saki Hartas has supported people with a learning disability since 1993 and has been a registered manager for residential care. She went onto manage a variety of services in Devon which also included domiciliary care, supported living, employment and day opportunities. Saki joined the HFT (formerly known as Home Farm Trust) Specialist Skills team in 2013 as a practitioner focusing on Enduring Health. Throughout her time in this sector she has developed a special interest in dementia and on a professional and personal level the importance of early diagnosis and understanding this condition as well as the vital role of research in this field.
